Miracle Method modernizes locker rooms in the Cook Douglas Recreation Center

Worn out tiles get a much-needed cleaning and update with refinished tile floors, providing a fresh, modern look that are easy to maintain.

The Problem

While the Cook Douglas Recreation Center at Rutgers offers many top-notch amenities, the tile surfaces in the locker rooms, steam room, and showers, became damaged, impossible to clean, and unattractive to its users. After 40 years of service to the community, the Facility Director was seeking an affordable and time-efficient solution to create a more appealing environment for the aging facility.

The Miracle Method Solution

After meeting Miracle Method at an ERAPPA show, the Facility Director conducted an on-site survey of the locker rooms which lead to the decision of refinishing the outdated area. Miracle Method worked on-site with the Facility Director to choose colors from their exclusive Natural Accents® stone-look finish line and discuss the benefits of the antimicrobial clear coat.

The Process

Soap scum, oils, mold, and mildew were eliminated when Miracle Method technicians began the process of cleaning the surfaces and repairing damaged tile and grout. Not only had the tile walls and floors become more attractive, but also easier to maintain thanks to the completely refinished and sealed surfaces. A beautiful stone-look finish was accomplished with Miracle Method's first-class Natural Accents® which was sealed with a durable antimicrobial clear coat.

The Results

While the students were away on winter break, Miracle Method's proprietary process was able to modernize the appearance and extend the life expectancy of the once dated locker rooms in just four days. At a fraction of the cost of traditional removal and replacement, the Facility Director found an affordable and time effective solution, which created a better environment for the recreation center's members.

Students, staff, and the community alike, were impressed with the enhanced locker rooms, while the University decided to partner with Miracle Method to rejuvenate additional tile surfaces throughout the campus.
