

Miracle Method remodels baths, kitchens without replacement

During these economic times, it makes more sense to find lower-cost alternatives as you tackle those home improvement projects. For example, instead of replacing that worn-out bathtub, consider having it resurfaced. If the tub or shower is still sturdy, but just chipped, cracked, or the surface has worn through, Miracle Method can make it look new again.

As a full-service refinisher, Miracle Method can repair and restore porcelain, acrylic, fiberglass, ceramic, laminated and cultured marbled surfaces on tubs, showers, counters, sinks, walls and floors, saving clients, on average, 70 percent.

Cynthia Miller recently bought a home that was built in the '50s. To her knowledge the two bathrooms had never been remodeled, and the tubs had seen better days. "They had completely lost the enamel on the outside," she explained. "There were stains - I couldn't get them white, and there was rust around the drains." The tubs had also lost their smoothness.

Miller did her research on the Internet. She discovered that replacing the tubs with an insert was too expensive an option. She came across Miracle Method, and realized she had a less expensive option. "I was going to have other work done in the bathroom, and this seemed like a better option for the tubs."

After her experience with Miracle Method, Miller was pleased with the results. "They look brand new," she said. "I'm just thrilled about it - even my friends are complimenting me.

"Even my plumber was impressed - he had never seen anything like this, and he's seen a lot of bathrooms!"

Miller also had praises for the installer. "He came on time, covered everything up, and explained exactly what he was doing," she added. "Miracle Method is very professional, efficient, and they're good communicators.

"It's a good product, and far cheaper than a tub insert - if you're not ready to do a complete remodel, this is a good option."
